The inspiration for this 1920s formal living area is the room's architecture with twin arch French doors leading to a tropical scenic view of Providencia Park, the Intracoastal Waterway and Palm Beach.

The fireplace is the focal point of the room. Chimney and columns have been faux painted as if constructed from a solid piece of Coquina. The egg and dart detail above the mantle and Corinthian style capitol have been softly embellished. The fireplace mantle is Faux Bois Pecky Cypress.

The surrounding walls maintain the home's stucco texture with old world gold and neutrals. One hundred percent natural Italian limestone plaster materials were supplied by Dimensions. Red Oak floors have been finished in a rosewood stain to contrast with the walls and echo the pecky cypress ceiling color.

Music to your ears... an ebony polished Boston Baby Grand piano, designed by Steinway & Sons plays beautiful songs as you walk through the home.

Global accents throughout the room emanate well traveled collections from Moorish ceiling embellishments to a pagoda topped étagère.

JoAnn Munro is a native of Palm Beach County, Florida. She graduated from Florida State with a Bachelor of Science degree and a major in Interior Design. JoAnn is a state licensed interior designer. After 28 years of design experience, JoAnn has a great appreciation and diversity in design style; where she will design with her client's signature. Every project is designed with individual attention. "Universal Design and design for all," whether to accommodate family members with disabilities, those with allergy sensitivities where a healthy home using healthy design materials, or "Generational Design," as people are residing in their homes through retirement.

Thank You!

This room is dedicated to the memory and honor of my father, Jonathan Carlton Munro who passed away from Tuberculosis and my sister, Melinda Munro Albritton who passed away from LAM, a rare lung disease.

Joseph Pubillones is a Cuban-American interior designer. Having studied architecture in the U.S. and Europe, his interiors are elegant, well structured and rooted in classic designs. His years of living in Paris, Rome, Florence, Miami and Montreal, allow Joseph to bring to his clients' homes, interiors with a cosmopolitan flair. His clear understanding of his client's needs and desires allow him to move freely in a variety of interior styles ranging from traditional to contemporary to exciting tropical interiors.

Over the years, he has developed a team of fine skilled craftsmen to make his design concepts leap from sketches into beautiful home furnishings. His training as an architect allows him to undertake projects that range from minor modifications to entire interior renovations to accomplish his clients' goals.

With over 10 years of experience in residential interior design, he has also worked on commercial projects and yacht interiors. From initial design plans and sketches to installation of furnishings, accessories and art placement, Joseph Pubillones Interiors offers personalized "white glove" service. He has just completed filming an episode of HGTV's Designer Challenge, and will next be featured in a local design show.
